SECTION 2 – ACADEMIC DETAILS

Brief description of the content of the unit

This unit equips students with knowledge and skills to use interpretive tools based on Biblical Hebrew and New Testament Greek. It connects strongly with the MTC formation domain, Engaging God’s Story. Students learn the Greek and Hebrew alphabets & transliterations, examine the grammatical building blocks in English, Greek and Hebrew, engage with grammatical and lexical tools, analyse commentaries based on the biblical languages, and develop skills for the effective use of academic level Bible software. On completion of this unit, students, with the aid of Bible software, will confidently and faithfully engage in lexical and grammatical studies at a basic level to provide exegetical insights that are informed by the biblical languages, and present their findings to contemporary audiences.

Learning outcomes for the unit

- 1) Distinguish the alphabets and transliteration systems and explain the basic grammar and syntax of biblical Hebrew and New Testament Greek
- 2) Effectively utilise key Hebrew and Greek language resources, including academic level Bible software, to provide exegetical insights on the Bible, based on the biblical languages, and to analyse exegetical discussions in commentaries that focus on the biblical languages
- 3) Creatively communicate clear and coherent exegetical insights, based on the biblical languages, to contemporary audiences
